DECORATING IDEAS FOR THE GREAT INDOORS

How to update walls (p. 20), mix patterns (p. 31), live stylishly with pets (p. 47), and more!

Wild for...

Mushroom

Warmer than gray but cooler than taupe, this neutral, earthy shade is popping up everywhere. Here's how to make the color work for you.

14-16

STATEMENT TILE

A subdued color scheme gives these patterns live-with-it-forever potential.

You loved it. We found it!

Q: "I can't stop thinking about the amazing tile I saw at The Landsby Hotel in Solvang, CA. Any idea where it's from?"
-Sarah McAllister, Eugene, OR

A: According to the hotel, that's hand-painted terra-cotta from Arizona-based Tabarka Studio (tabarkastudio.com; prices vary). Granada Tile has similar patterns in budget-friendly concrete.

TIP: Alternate a large-scale and small-scale graphic pattern, and stick with two colors. Anything more could get a bit dizzying.

Design from the Ground Up

Rugs, however durable, aren't practical for a heavy-use kitchen. Enter statement floor tile. It's a more subtle way to add impact than, say, a bold eye-level backsplash. (Go to granadatile.com for similar quilt-like patterns.)

Mind the Gaps

If versatile white tile is the design equivalent of a little black dress, think of grout as the jewelry that can transform the outfit. (Polyblend grout; all colors available at homedepot.com.)

Bright White
The classic, clean, and understated option

Alabaster
A safe bet with a little more oomph

Oyster Gray
Has the "cafe-style" vibe you get at coffee shops

Charcoal
The most modern, it goes well with industrial decor.
